

ABOUT TROX X-FANS GMBH

TROX X-FANS GMBH. TURNING IDEAS INTO SUCCESS STORIES

FINDING INNOVATIVE SOLUTIONS FOR 140 YEARS.

Fans from Bad Hersfeld in Germany have enjoyed an excellent reputation over the world for around 140 years. Top-quality engineering, a continual process of development and "made in Germany" production have made TROX X-FANS GmbH one of the leading manufacturers of fans for technical building systems in our field.

This success story is based on our company culture, which is characterised by mutual esteem, trust, openness and taking satisfaction in a job well done.

To make our products as environmentally friendly as possible, we focus not just on a high level of efficiency, but also on the highest quality and operational safety. Adding value in a sustainable way is not an empty phrase for us – it is an integral part of our corporate culture. An example of this is our special GreenLine range of products, made of up fans that are particularly economical.

The ideal solution for every situation

We want our products to work for you. So we make sure you can contact our experts at our offices and in the field at any time for technical assistance and support.

From planning your plant right through to implementation – we can provide you with the right solution for every situation. Tailor-made and innovative, whether you need to ventilate or extract smoke from an underground car park or heat large buildings and industrial premises.

Even if you need complex smoke extraction systems for special-purpose structures or especially efficient ventilation designs, you can still count on us.

Be sure to get our experts involved in your next project.
